Hello! Thank you for your interest in Avanti Morocha lifestyle blog. Here, you are going to find an assortment of DIY's, crafts, home decor, party ideas, holiday décor, travel tips, product reviews, easy recipes, and some of my random adventures! My blog is written both in English and Spanish and this year, I've also started making my YouTube videos in both languages as well. Gotta love being bilingual! If you don't mind my spicy Latin accent, I would love to be part of new adventures you throw my way! Oh, and don't worry, I always add closed captions to all my English videos!

ABOUT ME

I'm a proud Latina living in the USA; I have a degree in Architecture and Urban Planning plus an associate degree in graphic design. I simply love activities that require creativity! My favorite projects involve home improvements, which is probably due to my background in architecture. I'm also the owner of the AvantiMorochaDiys shop on Etsy, where I sell digital goods.
